

Program	Description	Status
Photometric Inversion to Explicate Debris (PIED)	The proposed effort includes the research and identification of features to be inferred from relevant space object (SO) observation data including unresolved photometry. These features are used as part of a proof-of-concept framework that leverages multiple-model adaptive estimation (MMAE) and machine learning to estimate the class membership of an unknown SO.	Active